

Are you looking for something to read for professional development?

If you have been following this site for awhile, you know that I like to read. Matter of fact, I like to read ALOT. And at any give time, I'm reading between 3-5 books. They range from history to science fiction and everything in between. Regardless of the genre, I'm always doing it with professional growth in mind. For example, here's what I'm currently reading:

Artemis: A Novel by Andy Weir, author of The Martian (Available November 14th)

Our Year of War: Two Brothers, Vietnam, and a Nation Divided (Available November 9th)

Clausewitz's On War: A Biography by Sir Hew Strachan

Preparing for War: The Emergence of the Modern U.S. Army 1815-1917 by JP Clark

Popular: The Power of Likability in a Status-Obsessed World by Mitch Prinstein

If you're looking for something to read, I think you will enjoy my new monthly email, The ROM (Reading of the Month) will feature:

- A recommended book
- Brief summary
- 3-5 lessons or insights I pulled from the book
