

FROM THE GREEN
NOTEBOOK

THE PODCAST

“We believe in the power of humor, but we believe you have to laugh with each other, not at each other.”

SPONSORED BY

ALPHA COFFEE

&

UNG

UNIVERSITY of
NORTH GEORGIA
THE MILITARY COLLEGE OF GEORGIA

STEVE SHENBAUM

Founder and President of Game On Nation

Steve Shenbaum, former actor and founder of Game on Nation, joins Joe to talk about life lessons he learned while working in Hollywood and why workplace culture is so important to effective communication. Additionally, the two discuss the “do’s and don’ts” of team-building and a special guest joins the show for a lesson on the value of Improv.

Click here to listen to the episode

About Steve (@steveshenbaum)

Since creating Game On in 1997, Steve has become a nationally recognized expert on communication, leadership, character development, & media training. He's revolutionized the way athletes, coaches, and executives train through his groundbreaking MILE™ curriculum, fueled by the power of Game Dynamics. He's on the Advisory Board for The Players' Tribune and is a consultant for the NBA Pre-Draft and Rookie Transition Programs. Steve graduated from Northwestern University with a degree in Communication, and now resides in Bradenton, FL with his wife and two daughters.

Share this:

- Email
- Tweet
-
- Print
- WhatsApp